

How Seriously Amazing are You?

Are you a Naturalist? An Innovator? A Storyteller? A Discoverer? Maybe an Ambassador? Or an Activist?

Find out your American history personality with this quick quiz!

1. You're making big plans for summer vacation and your dream trip pops up in your web search. Where are you going?
  - m) Los Angeles, no question! See where the magic happens!
  - n) The Rockies, baby! The sunshine, the bears...
  - o) Outer Space isn't an option? How about Space Camp?
  - p) Somewhere I can build things. Or climb on them.
  - q) Switzerland for the win!
  - r) D.C.! Headed to that protest on the Mall!

2. Your friends are forming a study group for an American history final. What section are you most likely to cover?
  - m) Significant Individuals – People are where the stories are!
  - n) Environmental Protection movements – wildlife, land, and water can have fascinating impacts on how people live!
  - o) Expansion – the sections of the country are so different! Different foods, dialects, clothing, the beach and the woods!
  - p) Business and Innovation – inventions and new industries change so many lives for the better! And sometimes the worse.
  - q) Foreign Policy – the US is only one of dozens of nations and I love researching how we all get along, or don't...
  - r) Popular Movements – people working together is what really makes history happen!

3. You are dressing up for Halloween and want to go as a group. What are you going as?
  - m) I'm going as a famous author from the Harlem Renaissance!
  - n) Kermit the Frog! Making my costume was like living in a room filled with multi-colored fluff.
  - o) An Apollo 11 astronaut! A silver jumpsuit, some ski goggles, and I'm good to go.
  - p) A scientist! Maybe Albert Einstein, or Marie Curie...
  - q) Simon Bolivar? Picasso? Don't think they'll know Frida Kahlo
  - r) A famous leader, like Cesar Chavez or Susan B. Anthony. Famous for good reason!
4. You're picking classes for next year and want to make sure you use your elective wisely. What do you take?
  - m) Journalism: I've always wanted to be a reporter!
  - n) Theater class: dressing up in costumes and pretending to be other people sounds like a good laugh.
  - o) Environmental Science: I hear they take a lot of field trips which is good enough for me!
  - p) Graphic arts: No question, I love designing new looks!
  - q) An extra language class, it's so great to be able to speak in other languages.
  - r) Student government: it's fun to plan events and work for what students want.

5. It's Career Fair Day at school! The gym is full of representatives from different jobs. Who do you go talk to?
- m) The Social Media gurus: creating apps and ways for people to connect around the world sounds sweet!
  - n) The zoologists! Not really sure if I'm up for taking care of cheetahs – but this is my chance to find out!
  - o) There are a few people from the Armed Forces here and you know what they say, "Join the Navy, See the World!"
  - p) The medical researchers and technologists: it's crazy what we can do with lasers these days!
  - q) The Travel Agents: Traveling the world and helping others to do the same is my dream job for sure!
  - r) There are a few lobbyists here. Apparently they talk to lawmakers about supporting different causes. Sounds like a cool job.

6. The varsity football game's away this Friday and you don't feel like driving to the other district. What do you do instead?
- m) School musical's playing tonight – I was going to that in the first place!
  - n) There's a park across the street from my house. We usually hang out there when the weather's nice.
  - o) I think we'll just go for a drive and see where we end up – usually find some adventure that way!
  - p) We've got a robotics competition tomorrow that we have to be up bright and early for! Bed time.
  - q) Model United Nations conference this weekend! Starts tonight, so I'll be headed to that.
  - r) I've got volunteering hours on Friday afternoons, maybe I'll stick around a little longer there.

Record your answers here:

1) _____ 2) _____ 3) _____ 4) _____ 5) _____ 6) _____

The Storyteller
(mostly m)

You're the tale-spinner! You've always felt that life is in the details, the personalities, the events; without them, everything seems so much more boring. What matters most is the story. Walking in to the museum is like walking into a book!

The Naturalist
(mostly n)

You walk on the wild side! Exploring the wildlife, thinking about issues of conservation and how best to use what we've got, you like to see and think about as many new things as possible. When you check out the National Museum of American History, your eyes bug out!

The Discoverer
(mostly o)

Yours is the age of exploration! Always a pathfinder, you don't care where you're going or how you'll get there, but whatever you find in your trip is sure to be an adventure. When navigating the museum, you can barely decide which direction to turn!

The Innovator
(mostly p)

You're the one with the bright ideas! What fascinates you most is what makes things go—and how we can make them go further, faster, better. You're a problem solver, happiest when puzzling things out. When you enter the museum's doors, your curiosity ignites!

The Ambassador
(mostly q)

You're the one with the diplomatic touch! When problems arise you're the one who thinks about how to get everyone involved everything they want! You love to travel and connect to new cultures. When you head into the museum, you're on the lookout for Allies!

The Activist
(mostly r)

You're the one with the cause! You're all about justice, making sure the people you care about are treated fairly. You're not afraid to stand up for yourself and for what you believe in and you're ready to lead the way. When you head over to the museum, you find stories after your own heart!